

Regulations on Audit and Accounts

Comptroller and Auditor General of India
2007

Preface

The Directorate of Audit has recently brought out an updated manual of internal audit. In this context it was felt that the Regulations of Audit & Accounts issued by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India regarding the procedure for dealing with audit of CAG could also be reprinted for official use by the various concerned officers. This document will not only be useful for training and orientation of Accounts functionaries but also of all the concerned officers in the departments who are subject to audit. This booklet will make the procedures of dealing with audit transparent to all concerned. It will also serve as a handbook for the staff dealing with the processes of audit related matters.

दिनांक / Date January 11, 2008

Dear Sir,

It gives me great pleasure to forward a copy of the Regulations on Audit and Accounts, 2007.

2. The Regulations have been issued in pursuance of Section 23 of the Comptroller and Auditor General's (Duties, Powers and Conditions of Service) Act, 1971 which governs the role of the Comptroller and Auditor General. The Regulations relate to the scope and extent of audit including laying down for the guidance of the Government departments the general principles of Government accounting and the broad principles in regard to the audit of receipts and expenditure.
3. This is the first time that the Regulations have been issued under the Act. As the Regulations have been notified in the Gazette of India on November 20, 2007, these will be available to Government departments, bodies and authorities and even to general public for their information and guidance. The Regulations are expected to be of use in making the Government departments and other bodies and authorities under the control of the Government aware of the principles of Government audit and accounts. This is a step towards achieving overall transparency.
4. The Regulations for the first time include provisions regarding intimation of major irregularities by Accountant General (Audit) to the Government and the head of department concerned and furnishing of reports on such irregularities by the Government in a time bound manner. Also, there are provisions for making annual public statement by the Heads of Department regarding pending audit observations. These provisions have been included on the recommendations of Administrative Reforms Commission as accepted by the Government.

5. The Regulations are also available on the website of this Department at www.cag.gov.in under the heading 'mandate'.
6. The Regulations may kindly be widely circulated amongst the various departments of the Union Territory and organizations under their control to ensure effective implementation of the provisions of the C&AG's (DPC) Act, 1971.

Regards,

Yours sincerely,

Sd/

Shri Ramesh Narayanaswamy,
Chief Secretary,

CHAPTER 2

General

3. Role of the C&AG in regard to audit

The Comptroller and Auditor General is the sole authority prescribed in the Constitution entrusted with the responsibility of audit of accounts of the Union and of the States. It is the duty of the Comptroller and Auditor General to audit receipts and expenditure of the Union and each State and the Union Territory Governments. The audit reports of the Comptroller and Auditor General are placed before Parliament or the legislature of the State or the Union Territory, as the case may be.

The duties of the Comptroller and Auditor General also extend to audit of Government companies and corporations and bodies and authorities in accordance with the laws made by the legislature and rules made thereunder.

4. Broad objectives of audit

The broad objectives of audit are to ensure legality, regularity, economy, efficiency and effectiveness of financial management and public administration mainly through assessment as to:

- (1) whether the financial statements are properly prepared, are complete in all respects and are presented with adequate disclosures (financial audit);
- (2) whether the provisions of the Constitution, the applicable laws, rules and regulations made thereunder and various orders and instructions issued by competent authority are being complied with (compliance audit); and
- (3) the extent to which an activity, programme or organisation operates economically, efficiently and effectively (performance audit).

5. All audits to be as per Mandate, Regulations, etc.

All audits undertaken by the Comptroller and Auditor General, or on his behalf, shall be as per the Constitution of India and the Act. These Regulations, standing orders, guidelines and practice notes issued by the Comptroller and Auditor General shall guide the conduct of such audits.

6. Authority of the C&AG in regard to audit

Under Section 18 read with Section 2(e) of the Act, the Comptroller and Auditor General has the authority:

- (a) to inspect any office of accounts under the control of the Union or of a State or of a Union Territory having a legislative assembly;

- (b) to require that any accounts, books, papers and other documents which deal with or form the basis of or are otherwise relevant to the transactions to which his duties in respect of audit extend, shall be sent to such place as he may appoint for his inspection; and
- (c) to put such questions or make such observations as he may consider necessary, to the person in charge of the office and to call for such information as he may require for the preparation of any account or report which it is his duty to prepare.

The person in charge of any office or department, the accounts of which have to be inspected and audited by the Comptroller and Auditor General, shall afford all facilities for such inspection and comply with requests for information in as complete a form as possible and with all reasonable expedition.

7. Participation in management committees

Auditors should ordinarily not become members of management committees and if advice is to be given, it should be conveyed as audit advice or recommendation and acknowledged clearly as such.

8. Advice by Audit on certain issues

Audit should be ready to advise the executive in such matters as accounting standards and policies and the form of financial statements.

9. No power of direction with the executive in relation to Audit

It is important for the independence of the Comptroller and Auditor General that there is no power of direction by the executive in relation to the performance of the audit mandate. The Comptroller and Auditor General is not obliged to carry out, modify or refrain from carrying out an audit or suppress or modify audit findings, conclusions and recommendations in the light of any directions by the executive. This, however, does not preclude requests to the Comptroller and Auditor General by the executive proposing matters for audit. Decision in this regard shall rest finally with the Comptroller and Auditor General.

10. Utilising specialised skills from external sources

The Comptroller and Auditor General may, in special circumstances and if so required, utilise specialised skills from external sources in carrying out an audit or accounts task.

11. General or common Regulations to apply in all cases

General or common Regulations shall apply in all cases subject to specific provisions made in particular chapters in these Regulations.

CHAPTER 3

Under Section 23 of the Act, the scope and extent of audit shall be determined by the Comptroller and Auditor General.

(3) The scope of audit includes the assessment of internal controls in the auditable entities. Such an assessment may be undertaken either as an integral component of an audit or as a distinct audit assignment.

(4) The Comptroller and Auditor General may, in addition, decide to undertake any other audit of a transaction, programme or organisation in order to fulfill the mandate and to achieve the objectives of audit.

16. Conduct of audit

Audit will be conducted (a) with reference to such accounts, vouchers and records as may be received in the audit office and/or in the accounts office and may include on-line data, information and documents of the auditable entity; and (b) in the office of the auditable entity or at the site where the relevant records for audit are available or at such other place as may be decided by Audit.

17. Request for special audit

(1) The Comptroller and Auditor General or any officer so authorised shall give due consideration to a request for special audit of a programme, project or organisation within the audit jurisdiction provided that every such request:

- (a) is made with the approval of the Secretary to Government of the concerned department;

- (c) specify the period to be covered in the special audit.

(2) The decision of the Comptroller and Auditor General or any officer so authorised in regard to the special audit shall be final.

18. Reporting the results of special audit

(1) The Accountant General (Audit) shall report the results of the special audit to the Secretary to Government of the concerned department and in case of a State or a Union Territory with legislative assembly, also report these results to Secretary to Government, Finance Department.

(2) The Comptroller and Auditor General reserves the right to communicate the results of any special audit to the Ministry of Finance, Government of India and to include them in the audit report.

CHAPTER 4

Guiding Principles of Auditing Standards

19. Definition

Auditing standards prescribe the norms which the auditors are expected to follow in conduct of audit. These provide guidance to the auditor to help determine the auditing steps and procedures that should be applied in audit and constitute the criteria or the yardstick against which quality of audit results is evaluated.

20. Relevance and application

(1) Auditing standards provide the framework for performing high quality audit. Compliance with these standards is expected to ensure that a high quality of audit is performed for achieving the audit objectives.

(2) Auditing standards shall apply both to the individual auditor and the audit department.

(3) All audits on behalf of the Comptroller and Auditor General are required to be conducted as per the auditing standards. In other words, auditing standards shall apply to all types of audit including financial audit, compliance audit and performance audit.

(4) Auditing standards shall be consistent with the guiding principles of auditing standards as contained in this Chapter.

21. Consideration of international auditing standards while prescribing auditing standards

The international auditing standards may be considered and suitably adapted keeping in view the Constitution of India, the Act, other relevant statutes, extant rules and these Regulations while prescribing the auditing standards of the Comptroller and Auditor General.

22. Scope of auditing standards

The auditing standards shall inter alia include the following:

- (a) Basic postulates
- (b) General standards
- (c) Field standards
- (d) Reporting standards

(a) Basic Postulates

23. Definition

The basic postulates for auditing standards are the basic premises and requirements which help in developing auditing standards and guide the auditors in forming their opinions and reports, particularly in cases where no specific standards apply.

24. Framework of basic postulates

The basic postulates for auditing standards shall inter alia include the following:

- (1) The auditing standards shall be complied with by the auditors in all matters that are deemed material.
- (2) The auditors shall apply their own judgement to the diverse situations that arise in the course of audit.
- (3) There shall be an effective accountability process in operation.
- (4) The Government shall be responsible for establishment, development and enforcement of adequate information, control, evaluation and reporting systems within the Government to facilitate the accountability process.
- (5) Appropriate authorities in Government shall ensure the promulgation of acceptable accounting standards for financial reporting and disclosure that are relevant to the needs of the Government and that result in true and fair presentation of financial position and results of operations.
- (6) The Government shall establish an adequate system of internal control to minimise the risk of errors and irregularities.
- (7) The Government shall ensure cooperation of auditable entities in providing access to all relevant data, information and documents necessary for audit.
- (8) All audit activities shall be consistent with the audit mandate of the Comptroller and Auditor General.
- (9) Audit shall avoid conflict of interest between the auditor and the auditable entity.

(b) General Standards

25. Definition

The general standards describe the qualifications of the auditor and the audit institution, the compliance of which enables them to carry out the tasks related to conduct of audit and reporting of audit findings in a competent and effective manner. These standards establish a foundation for credibility of work of the auditor and the audit institution.

26. Framework of general standards

The general standards shall inter alia include:

- (a) Independence: The auditor and the audit institution should be independent in all matters relating to audit work so that their opinions and reports are impartial.
- (b) Professional competence: The auditor and the audit institution should possess adequate professional competence for performance of work. Accordingly, the audit institution should have a process for recruitment, hiring, continuous development, assignment and evaluation of personnel to maintain a competent workforce.
- (c) Due care: The auditors should exercise due care and caution in complying with auditing standards particularly in planning audits, specifying, gathering and evaluating evidence and in reporting findings, conclusions and recommendations.
- (d) Professional judgement: The auditors should use professional judgement in all aspects of carrying out their professional responsibilities. Professional judgement represents the application of the collective knowledge, skills and experience of all personnel involved with an assignment as well as the professional judgement of the individual auditors. In addition to personnel directly involved in the audit, professional judgement may involve collaboration with other stakeholders, outside experts and the management in the audit institution.
- (e) Quality control: The audit institution should establish a system of quality control that is designed to provide reasonable assurance that the institution and its personnel comply with standards. The system of quality control encompasses the audit institution's emphasis on performing high quality work, and the organisation's policies and procedures designed to provide reasonable assurance of complying with standards. The audit institution should document its quality control policies and procedures and communicate them to its personnel.

(c) Field Standards

27. Definition

The field standards provide an overall framework for conducting and managing an audit. Separate field standards may be formulated for financial audit, compliance audit and performance audit.

28. Relationship with general standards and reporting standards

The field standards are related to the general standards which set out the basic requirements for undertaking the tasks covered by the field standards. They are also related to the reporting standards which cover the communication aspect of auditing, as the results from carrying out the field standards constitute the main source for the contents of the audit findings, opinions or reports.

29. Framework of field standards

The field standards shall inter alia include:

- (1) Planning: The auditor should plan audit in a manner which ensures that an audit of high quality is carried out in an economic, efficient and effective way and in a timely manner.
- (2) Supervision and review: The work of audit staff at each level and audit phase should be properly supervised during audit and a senior member of the audit staff should review documented work.
- (3) Examination and evaluation of internal control: The auditor, in determining the extent and scope of audit, should examine and evaluate the reliability of internal control. Auditors should obtain a sufficient understanding of internal control to plan the audit and determine the nature, timing and extent of checks to be performed.
- (4) Compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations: The auditor shall verify compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations and highlight deviations, if any.
- (5) Audit evidence: Competent, relevant and reasonable evidence should be obtained to support the auditor's judgement as well as conclusions regarding the organisation, programme, activity or function under audit.

(d) Reporting Standards

30. Definition

The reporting standards provide an overall framework for the auditor and the audit institution for reporting the results of audit.

31. Application

The reporting standards shall apply equally to all kinds of reports submitted by the Government auditors to the executive and the legislature, including inspection reports, audit reports and audit certificates on financial statements or statements of expenditure.

32. Framework of reporting standards

The reporting standards shall inter alia include the following:

- (1) Reporting standards shall be meant to assist, and not to supersede, prudent judgement of the auditor in framing and reporting audit findings, conclusions and recommendations.
- (2) The reports should be complete, accurate, objective, convincing, clear, concise, constructive and timely.
- (3) The form and content of all audit opinions and reports need to be consistent with the principles laid down in regard to (a) objectives and scope, (b) completeness, (c) addressee, (d) identification of subject matter, (e) legal basis, (f) compliance with standards, and (g) timeliness.
- (4) In formulating the audit opinion or report, the auditor should inter alia give due regard to the materiality of the matter keeping in view the amount, nature and context.
- (5) Auditors should report on significant instances of non-compliance and abuse that were found in audit. In some circumstances, auditors should report illegal acts promptly to the audited entity without waiting for the full report to be prepared after the audit.
- (6) When auditors conclude, based on evidence obtained, that fraud or corruption has either occurred or is suspected to have occurred, they should report relevant information. Such information that is clearly inconsequential either in a quantitative or qualitative sense need not be reported. When fraud involves financial assistance directly or indirectly from the Government and if the management fails to take remedial steps, the auditor may report it directly to the concerned Government and the grantor agency where such assistance is indirect and routed through such agency. Reporting of the cases of fraud and corruption noticed in audit directly to any other authorities shall be governed by the general or special orders of the Comptroller and Auditor General. The reporting of instances of fraud and corruption need not wait for final report of the auditor where promptness in such reporting is desirable due to special circumstances.

- (7) Auditors should report deficiencies in internal control that they consider significant.
- (8) Compliance audits, besides reporting on individual cases of non-compliance and abuse, also require reporting on weaknesses that exist in systems of financial management and internal control. The auditor should also report the results of examination of rules, regulations, orders and instructions and their consistency as well as significant irregularities and instances of fraud and corruption.
- (9) In the report on the financial statements, the auditor should inter alia either (a) describe the scope of the auditor's testing of compliance with laws, rules and regulations and internal control in preparation of financial statements and present the results of those tests or (b) refer to the separate report(s) containing that information. In presenting the results of those tests, the auditor should report fraud, corruption, illegal acts, other material non-compliance, and significant deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting.
- (10) The performance audit report should state clearly the objectives and scope of the audit. Reports may give independent information, advice or assurance as to whether and to what extent economy, efficiency and effectiveness are being or have been achieved. Performance audit reports should not concentrate solely on adverse assessment of the past but should be constructive. Recommendations should, as far as feasible, suggest what improvements are needed and how to achieve them.
- (11) In follow up of recommendations, the auditor should maintain objectivity and independence and focus on whether identified weaknesses are corrected rather than on whether specific recommendations are adopted.
- (12) Audit reports shall be forwarded by the audit department to the appropriate authorities of the audited entity. Copies shall also be sent to other officers who may be responsible for taking action on audit findings, conclusions and recommendations.
- (13) Systems and procedures should be in place to assess whether adequate, prompt and proper follow up action has been taken on audit reports. In subsequent audits, the auditor should examine and report whether satisfactory action was taken on the audit reports.
